THURSDAY MORNING, OCT. 16, 1879.

Messrs. Calvo & Patton, proprietors of the Columbia Register, have our thanks for their courtesy and liberality in furnishing us the election dispatches, which appear in another column.

Sens or Blaine and General Ewing are first cousins and great personal friends, although they are entirely oppo site in their political views. Some time ago Ewing went into Maine and spoke against Blaine, and a few days since Blaine returned the compliment by going into Ohio and speaking in opposition to Ewing. While out there he took tea with Ewing, and is said to have spent a very pleasant evening. The two men, however, are very different in other respects than politics. Ewing is a brave. patriotic and independent man, while Blaine is only brave in time of profound peace, measures his patriotism by his personal interests, and is independent when he is certain he is with the majority, and not otherwise.

| Mr. George William Curtis, the editor of Harper's Weekly, which is one of the most implacable Southern haters and maligners of all the Republican press, and whose loyal Republicanism is beyoud dispute or even suspicion, does not like the nomination of Conkling's man Cornell for Governor of New York, and therefore ir urging the voters of the Empire State to vote the Republican ticket, village was undoubtedly the best time leaving the name of Cornell off of it. This is the counterpart of the Kelly bolt from Robinson, and may perhaps do be difficult to catch Redmond, but sugin the Democratic ranks. At least, it is refreshing to see Harper's Weekly, even in an indirect way, contributing to the not recommend this in order to let his election of a Democratic Governor of Postmaster General Key says that political assessments are unknown to the postoffice department, and that the postmasters throughout the country can either respond to or decline any call for contributions which may be made on them. This may all be true, but experience shows that those who fail to respond to the invitation to contribute very soon thereafter receive an invitation to step down and out of the office, to make room for some more pliant individual who will respond. This is a fair specimen of the idea which the Republican party has of liberty. The officers of the government are at liberty to do as they please with their salaries so long as they please to do as the Republican party say about contributing out of it. We think we have heard of some such proceedings as this in the days of Radicalism in South Carolina, but it is entirely unknown to our State officers under the Democratic administration. .

A strong argument for temperance may be made from the fact that Mr. Hayes' reputation for temperance is all that saves him from the suspicion of being drunk when he made his recent speech at Aurora, Ill., lately, for he is reported as saying:

"What I wish to say, and do not let any one misunderstand me, is that in the long run what is good for the capitalist, good for the laborer, is good for all the

The Abbeville Press and Banner and

the Barnwell People have been amusing themselves with a little skirmish over the suggestion of the propriety of nominating Gen. Hagood for Governor next year. We would not be guilty of jutermeddling with this tete-a-tete, but for the fact that we think the position of our Abbeville contemporary liable to be misconstrued to the injury, perhaps, of party discipline throughout the State, for the Press and not vote for Gen. Does our contemporary mean that the people of Abbeville will not vote for Gen. Hagood if he is nominated for Governor? If so, they are a very different people from what we believe them to be. Indeed, if this is what our contemporary it is wrong, for we do not believe that plete overthrow of the elective franchise will try to nominate some other man, bly poor performances. the very heart and essence of Republicanism, so that the party may justly be chargeable with the short comings of this little spot of the Union, which no doubt was created for some wise purpose that has not yet been revealed, the existence an orthodox faith. In this State, where the Republicans hold undisputed sway, they have engrafted as one of the provisions of the new Constitution that no foreign born citizen shall be allowed to voto unless he has a certain amount of property in the State, thus discriminating against all foreigners, regardless of intelligence and worth, until they have a certain sum of money, which is the summum bonum according to the idea of the Republican party. This is only a step in the direction which the party is traveling. If it does not cause them disaster, Banner says the people of Abbeville will the prohibition will be extended until it embraces all except the money power of the country, which is now striving to absorb entire control. The doctrine of personal rights and individual liberty, which was so dear to the founders of the Republic, have steadily diminished and curtailed by the dominion of the party of great moral ideas. The step in Rhode Island is an odious and dangerous one, which, if extended to all classes of citimeans, we must express the opinion that | zens, would soon be followed by the comgovernment, which would have all of the every foreign voter in the United States from the Republican party. of Republicans and Greenbackers. The Democratic State ticket has probably a majority of 1500 hundred. The Greenback vote throughout the State has greatly fallen off. In seven precincts in this county where they expected large gains they have only four or six votes.

COLUMBUS, Oct. 14, 10-15 p. m.
Returns from sixty precincts counted and reported by the manager of the Western Union Telegraph Company officers throughout the State show a net gain of 2,930 for Foster, Republican, for Governor, over the vote for Secretary of State in 1878. This indicates a Republican majority in the State of from 25,000 to 30,000.

11-30 p. m .- Returns from 880 precincts, wards and townships show a Republican gain of 5,730.

October 15, 12-20 a. m.—The Republicans claim the Legislature upon the report of 4,000 Republican majority in Cincinnatiand Hamilton Counties. The Democrats do not concede this. Four hundred and forty precincts, wards and townships give a net Republican gain of 6,628.

CINCINNATI, Oct. 14-Midnight. CINCINNATI, Oct. 14—Midnight.
The vote polled in Cincinnati and Hamilton counties is probably the largest in their history. Many business men

Returns are coming in very slowly, not a fifth of the vote yet being known. If the Republican gain in those counties reported continues, the Republican majority in the County will be about 3000. Williams, colored, Republican candidate for the Legislature, has been quite extensively scratched, but it is probable that he and the whole Republican ticket will be elected by majorities ranging from 1000 to 2000 will be elected by majorities ranging from 1000 to 3000.

CLEVELAND, Oct. 14.—Midnight.
Sixteen Wards give Foster 3,961 majority. The city and county give Foster about 5,500 majority. The Republicans will probably elect their entire county and legislative ticket.

CINCINNATI, Oct. 15.—2 a. m.

The Commercial and Gazette put Foster's majority at from 25,000 to 30,000.

The Enquirer concedes a small majority to Foster, but claims the Legislature.

COLUMBIN, Oct. 15.—2 a. m.

We have returns of the vote for Governor from over one-fourth of the State, which show Republican gains of 7,500, and indicate a Republican majority in the State of 25,000. Definite returns of the result on members of the Legislature have not been received, and the Legislature have not been received, and the Legislature is claimed by both parties, with the chances in favor of the Republicans. Partial returns from 47 additional counties give a Republican gain of 6,371.

COLUMBUS, Oct. 15.—2-15 a. m.

The Democratic State Committee concedes the election to Foster, but claim the Legislature. The chairman of the Republican Committee claims the election of 23 out of 35 Senators and 70 out of 114 Representatives.
